WISCONSIN HIGHLIGHT

THE BRONZE AGE

The use of metal in interior design can come across as industrial and stark, except perhaps for bronze owing to its warm hue and prevalence in cultures and past civilisations. These pedestals by Erazlow design come with bronzed mirror tops that are perfect for displaying works of art.

STRIPPING THE SECRETARY

The secretary desk is one piece of furniture that has been left out of many modern homes due to space constraints. Ironic, considering it was built to take up as little space as possible. This one by Janis Elleberger for CB2 reimagines this classic piece by simplifying its design yet keeping all its functionality.

Available at CB2, 178A Orchard Road

TOTAL FREEDOM

Osaka by La Cividina is a curvy and minimalist sofa composed of three separate parts with a fluid design that allows it to be transformed from sofa to bench. Osaka pays homage to Pierre Paulin's sofa that was designed for the French pavilion at Expo Osaka in 1970.
